

Co-Production Newsletter

A New Start

Since June, we have been working on a the launch of a new mailing list called the Co-production Network and our new Adult Co-production Group. The group consists of service users who attend monthly meetings to get involved in a range of participation projects.

Our first Workshop

An 'Introduction to Co-production' workshop was run throughout August. This served to explain more about co-production, gain service user insight on a range of different topics, and learn more about the types of projects people want to be involved in.

A detailed summary of key themes and outcomes can be found HERE

What's next...?

Look out for the launch of our HFEH Shakti Group and Transitional Co-production Group (ages 18-25)
